

Dear Colleagues:

Chancellor Matthew Goldstein is making a special effort to attract Puerto Rican/Latino faculty to the college system of the City University of New York. He has established the CUNY Latino Faculty Initiative in order to recruit outstanding candidates for faculty positions in all disciplines at CUNY, and to work with CUNY colleges to connect candidates to positions open within the CUNY system.

Presently there are over 75 positions open, many of potential interest to Latina/o scholars. If you are entering the academic market this year we urge you to do the following soon:

- 1) Visit <http://portal.cuny.edu/cms/id/cuny/documents/jobposting/TeachingTOC.htm> and review the current listing. Several positions have upcoming deadlines.
- 2) If you have an interest in a specific campus, visit www.cuny.edu for links to the various colleges and check their job postings.
- 3) If you opt to pursue a position, be sure to apply directly to the address as announced by CUNY job posting. Do NOT submit your official application to this Initiative.
- 4) Send the Latino Faculty Initiative a copy of your application (cover letter and CV) if you would like to help us keep track of CUNY's outreach and recruitment progress.
- 5) If you are not presently seeking employment, but would like the Initiative to include your CV in our databank, please send to: Arlene.Torres@hunter.cuny.edu. If you previously sent your CV and have since updated it please send us the updated version.

All personal information is kept in the strictest confidence and no materials are shared with other entities.

Sincerely,

Dr. Arlene Torres
Director, CUNY Latino Faculty Initiative
